SWER TO PROPOSITION BY

SET ARE MARCH 28, 29 AND 30.

If the necessary amount of money can be raised the big attraction of the season for Daytona this year will be a series of aeroplane flights and exhibitions, including a race on the beach between an aeroplane and an automobile, the exhibitions to be given the last week in March.

Negotiations between Jerome Fanciulli, personal representative of Glenn H. Curtiss, and the Hotel Men's Association of Daytona and the publicity committee of the Daytona board of trade, were concluded this morning, by the terms of which Aviator McCurdy, who recently made a flight from Key West to Havana, will make flights here March 28, 29 and 30.

The first day will be given up to a series of exhibition flights, probably on the beach, the second day's exhibition will include a flight over the three towns of Daytona, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze, and the third day's particular attraction will be a five mile race on the beach between the aviator in a flying machine and the fastest automobile which can be secured.

The money necessary to secure this attraction for Daytona is $3,500 and representatives of the Hotel Men's Association and the publicity committee of the board of trade will start out Monday morning to raise this amount by popular subscription among the business men and citizens of the city.

It is believed the amount can easily be raised, but the question will be to raise the money in one day. Mr. Fanciulli was able to spend but a short time in the city this morning because of pressing business engagements, and left just before noon for Washington, D. C. Mr. Curtiss is just closing up all contracts for the spring and summer months and must know at once whether Aviator McCurdy is to make his flights here the last week in March. The local committee has agreed to wire Mr. Fanciulli at Washington Monday night, which will give the committee but one day in which to secure pledges for the $3,500 necessary to bring Mr. McCurdy here.

Just at this time McCurdy is the most talked of and best advertised aviator in the business because of his over the sea flight from Key West. An exhibition by this aviator at Daytona would be the biggest attraction that could be secured for the city. The members of the soliciting committee will make a strong effort to see everybody on the streets and in the business places and hotel proprietors Monday, but will probably not be able to personally approach all who would be willing to subscribe to this fund. All persons who are not approached by the committee, or any persons who desire to subscribe to the fund, are requested to report the amount they are willing to give to the Daily News before Monday night.

Because of the short time given it will take quick action on the part of the soliciting committee and everybody is urgently requested to lend every possible assistance to the work.

NEW CITY EXECUTIVE PROPOSES TO ENFORCE THE ORDINANCES
OR HAVE THEM TAKEN OFF THE BOOKS.

Mayor Henry T. Titus is giving further evidences that he proposes to have the city ordinances enforced or have them revoked and as a result of this determination ten drivers of various kinds of vehicles were haled into the mayor's court Saturday morning and fined $1 and costs each for not observing the rule laid down by the city law of keeping to the right side of the street.

The attention of drivers has been frequently called to this ordinance of late, as well as the fact that serious accidents are likely to happen if this rule is not observed by all vehicles. At this time of the year, when the main business street and the principal residence streets are filled with automobiles, carriages, wagons, etc., collisions and smash-ups can be avoided only by all drivers observing the rule of the road.

The new city executive has decided that warnings enough have been issued and has instructed the city policemen to arrest all violators in future. Those brought into the mayor's court and fined Saturday morning were L. Kniffin, white, C. E. Rogers, white, Ben Collier, white, Pompey Williams, colored, Joe Patrick, colored, G. Johnson, white, J. G. Wallace, white, Dan Hutchinson, colored, A. B. Clark, colored, and Geo. W. A. Peck, white.

How You Start.

At the time you make your first deposit in the Merchants Bank we take your signature on a card which we keep on file for reference and comparison, with the signatures on the checks you write.

Your signature in our possession is a protection against forgery, not alone on your checks but on notes or any other instrument which might be offered to us for discount or sale.

Every person has some marked peculiarity in their signature that makes correct imitation almost impossible, so we ask customers to sign the card we keep, in the same manner they usually write their initials and name on their checks.

This is but one of the many little services we render our customers but it is a big factor in preventing forgeries and other frauds by smooth criminals.

Much interest is being taken in the trial of the case of Helen Hunt vs. Dr. Lincoln Hunt, president of Stetson university, for slander as the result of the girl being expelled from the school some time ago.

The presentation of testimony by the prosecution was completed Thursday and the taking of testimony by the defense began Friday. With the big array of legal talent representing both sides the presentation of testimony and questioning is taking up much time and it is expected the case will not be completed before the last of the week.

The trial must be finished before the first of week after next as Judge Jones is scheduled to begin a term of court in another county at that time. The case is being hotly contested by both sides and the attorneys are missing no opportunities to take advantage of technicalities.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11—Hoke Smith, governor elect of Georgia, today exposed a plot of two speculators to spread boll weevil over Georgia and the Carolinas and then buy cotton.

He said the plotters have two, one live weevil ready to distribute. A week ago Mr. Smith received a letter from a man in whom he has the utmost confidence, stating that the writer had been shown 5,000 live weevil and asked to come in on the speculation scheme.

Yesterday the writer called on the governor elect in person, verifying the letter.

The governor elect refuses to divulge the name of the writer or the men back of the plot to devastate the cotton crop in Georgia and the Carolinas.

The main column of the Rebels is moving southward in retreat and leaving a path of destruction behind. The Federal officers claim the retreat of the insurgents is due to jealousy among the leaders.

DECISION REACHED AT MEETING OF FLORIDA EAST COAST AU-
TOMOBILE ASSOCIATION FRI-DAY NIGHT.

From present indications there will be no automobile races on Daytona beach this spring.

This was practically the decision reached at a special meeting of the Florida East Coast Association held at the club house Friday evening and it is expected that all efforts to bring any kind of a race meet here this season will now be abandoned.

When it was learned the Fiat and Benz automobile manufacturers had refused to enter their cars in the beach meet at Jacksonville the last week in March because of the uncertain condition of the beach, the question was asked these manufacturers if they would be willing to have their cars come here for a series of races on Daytona beach at that time, and both expressed a willingness to do so. However, the contest board of the A. A. A. gave notice these races could not be held at the same time as the Jacksonville meet, suggesting that they be held after the meet at Palm Beach. The general opinion among the business men is that this would be too late and would do the city little good and the matter of a race meet here has been dropped.

PICTURESQUE PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE is a pretty little village situated five miles south of Daytona on the Daytona-New Smyrna hard-surface road, the scenic highway of the East Coast. The town is located on the Halifax River, and is connected with the peninsula opposite by a bridge.

The town is well laid out and has many pretty homes. A large number of tourists and winter residents make Port Orange winter headquarters, one of the several attractions being the excellent fishing.

A short distance west of Port Orange are the remains of the old Dunlawton sugar mill, a place that is visited every year by hundreds of tourists. One time the country west of Port Orange, surrounding the old mill, was a vast indigo and sugar cane plantation. The mill was operated extensively in those early days but has been in disuse for forty or fifty years.

A very interesting drive from Daytona is by ocean beach to the approach of the Port Orange bridge, and then through the principal street of Port Orange to the ruins of the sugar mill, situated on the beach, and the road on the peninsula.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who has ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls fit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas looking out upon her bosom gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon the waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican pouch a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, with hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments, both solid and liquid, ready for a cruise upon this beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live oaks extend their giant arms across the magnificent Vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from the tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with alfalfa draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

See the glistening leaf of the grand magnolia which nature has varnished as no artist's brush ever could; and the cabbage palms with their burdens of showy fruit and swaying palms; see the lovely holly with its exquisite berry; see the climbing vines run riot in the trees; see the cypress swamps, forms which gain a foothold on the great oaks and scately palms, and surely you will join in the chorus and say that this is a world wonder for beauty.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps, commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottages. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and, as the architects of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering, "What next?"

It is not only the exterior of many of these homes which rivets attention; when they are models of convenience, and the finishing and furnishing give evidence of the elegance and cultivation of those who worked it all out. Indeed, it is the interior arrangement and artistic furnishing and shading, more than the exterior appearance that gives a surpassing charm to Daytona homes. This feature justly merits prominence as another wonder.

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed, but that such is a

DELAND, THE ATHENS OF FLORIDA

DELAND, the county seat of Volusia County, is situated 23 miles southwest of Daytona and is reached from the latter city by an excellent hard-surface road recently constructed.

At Deland is located the John B. Stetson University, one of the leading educational institutions of the South. Because of the interest in matters educational Deland is known as "The Athens of Florida."

Stetson University has a faculty of 50 professors and instructors. There are over $400,000 in buildings and equipment; nearly $300,000 endowment; a Carnegie Library alone representing an investment in building, endowment and books, of more than $120,000. The library is the United States Government depository for the State of Florida, and contains over 15,000 volumes. Science Hall, one of the newest of 16 buildings, with its furnishings, represents an outlay of $60,000. Elizabeth Hall is one of the most beautiful college buildings in the South.

The city has a population of about 3,500, with a thickly settled country adjacent. Deland proper is five miles east of the St. Johns River, on the high, rolling pine land of the great "Orange Ridge" of Florida.

The predominant products are oranges and grapefruit, the estimated crop from this vicinity being over 300,000 boxes this year. Grapes, peaches, pears, Japan persimmons, plums, pecans, guavas, strawberries and other fruits are grown in plenty.

In the way of public improvements are many miles of fine shell roads, an excellent high school, electric lights, a system of waterworks that is owned and operated by the city, supplying the purest water at little cost.

Nine houses of worship testify that Deland is a church-going community. Baptists, Episcopalians, Methodists (Northern and Southern), Presbyterians, Christians and Catholics, besides colored Baptists and Methodists, are represented.

The graded school offers a ten years' course, and the building which it occupies is newly furnished throughout, and is one of the most commodious and best equipped public schools in the State.

The trip from Daytona to Deland is made by automobile in a little over an hour, and there are many pretty drives in the vicinity of the county site. A good road leads to DeLeon Springs, five miles, a historic spot, where 60,000 gallons of water bubble from the earth every minute.

From Deland automobiles go south to Osteen, 18 miles, on shell and marl roads; the St. Johns is crossed by ferry near Osteen and cars can then continue to Sanford and Orlando by hard road. There is a shell road from Deland to Orange City, five miles, and a good road from Deland to Lake Helen, a like distance.

LAKE HELEN
Surrounded by several pretty lakes and guarded by lofty pine trees is Lake Helen, a winter resort of no little importance. Camp Cassadaga, a spiritualistic camp-ground is situated near Lake Helen and at this place several hundred people make winter headquarters. A large lumber mill and the largest brick plant in the South are located at Lake Helen.

ORANGE CITY
The principal attraction around Orange City is the many handsome golden orange groves. The town is supplied with water said to be the purest in the world, another attraction to visitors. It is at Orange City that passengers over the Florida East Coast Ry. transfer to carriages and drive to Deland. The town is surrounded by land peculiarly adapted to the cultivation of citrus fruits.

Ormond Notes

On February 3d, the Palmetto club of Daytona visited, by invitation, the V. I. A. of Ormond, giving to an appreciative audience an interesting program. After a few words fittingly spoken by the president of V. I. A., Mrs. Macon Thornton, welcoming her big sister of Daytona, and which was happily responded to by the president of the Palmetto club, Mrs. Graham Thompson, making the small sister of Ormond feel a head taller by her words of commendation, making the work of the V. I. A. a prominent factor of the village. Mrs. Ikes then sang in a charming manner The Flower Song, from Faust, and The Little Dutch Garden by Marks, followed by Mrs. Henry Mitchell with a paper of her recent experience in A Journey Around the World. She succeeded in carrying her hearers with her to such an extent that they must have experienced all of the pleasures without the annoyances of the journey. It was delightfully interspersed with verses from her own pen as well as others apropos of the occasion.

The program closed by A. C. Donnelly rendering a violin selection, which was loudly encored.

A social hour was then enjoyed. Mrs. Abram De-Normandie and sons, Howard and Alfred, of Danvers, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Frank Colby, who is a sister.

The Ormond Yachtclub has just completed a new platform on the east side of the club house, facing the new canal that has just been dug in from the river channel.

William Jenks, who has been stopping at Chamelean lodge for two weeks, went north on Tuesday.

GOOD PROGRAM TONIGHT BY SPECIALTY COMPANY

The attraction at the Daytona theater tonight will be the third number of the season lyceum course and the entertainment is expected to be the best of the three. The attraction will be the Round's Specialty Co. and Ladies orchestra, every member of which is a musician of more than usual ability and a specialist in her line. The company has been giving excellent satisfaction in its entertainments so far this season and will probably be greeted by a large audience at the theater tonight.

*Have you nominated your favorite in the Gazette-News Popularity Contest yet? If not, do so at once. 57-6t

NEW SMYRNA
FLORIDA

NEW SMYRNA is situated fifteen miles south of Daytona and is an ideal spot reached from Daytona by a hard surface road winding through one of the most picturesque parts of Florida.

With its ancient ruins dating back to a time when the history of man runneth not, interlaced with wires of the modern telegraph and telephone, its miles of shell streets as hard and smooth as a floor and over-arched by hoary forest giants that grew in stately grandeur during the lapse of bygone centuries, New Smyrna is truly a place of romance and rest.

All nature here is very inviting to the tourist and pleasure-seeker. Here too is to be found the best fishing and hunting in the state of Florida.

The people are thrifty, the business men enterprising, and all unite in extending the welcome hand of hospitality to strangers. There are five church edifices for white people and an equal number for the colored population; the town has an excellent high school, a splendid public library, and up-to-date business houses.

There are any number of pretty homes for the permanent population, which numbers close to 2,000, and some very fine winter residences. There are good hotels and boarding houses where you can find accommodations to meet your requirements. Adjoining New Smyrna is as fine a section of vegetable land as can be found anywhere. This land has been divided into small farms which can be bought at reasonable prices. Some of the finest celery grown in the state is raised on this land. All other vegetables grow in abundance, and here, too, is the home of the famous Indian River oranges.

A FAMOUS RACE.

The Greatest Steamboat Contest on the Mississippi River.

The greatest race ever run on the Mississippi was between the Natchez, a boat built in Cincinnati and commanded by Captain E. P. Lee, and a New Albany boat, the Robert E. Lee, under Captain John W. Lee. There was spirited rivalry between the two vessels, and when the Natchez made the fastest time in the race, twenty-two miles in thirty-two minutes, Lee, the fastest time in the race, twenty-two miles in thirty-two minutes. He engaged the steam, the Natchez, and several fine boats, and arranged for them to meet him at various points up the river with wood and coal. Then he had his boat cleared of all her upper works likely to catch the wind or make the vessel heavy.

On Thursday, June 20, 1879, at 4:45 p. m., the Robert E. Lee steamed out of New Orleans. The Natchez followed five minutes later. The race had been advertised in advance and was now awaited with gathering interest at all the river towns. Large crowds were assembled at Natchez, Vicksburg, Helena and other large places.

Between Cairo and St. Louis the Natchez afterward claimed to have lost seven hours and one minute on account of a fog and broken machinery. The Robert E. Lee, however, was not delayed and arrived in St. Louis thirty-three minutes ahead of the previous record established by her competitor. Fifty thousand people from the house-tops, the levees and the docks of other steamers welcomed the winner as she steamed into port. Captain Cannon was the lion of the hour. The business men gave a banquet in his honor. — Travel Magazine.

RAILWAY CONDUCTORS' CONVENTION.

TO BE HELD MAY 9 TO 20
IN FLORIDA METROPOLIS.

CHARLES S. EMERSON, WELL-KNOWN NEWSPAPER MAN, DIRECTOR OF PUBLICITY, IS IN DAYTONA FOR A FEW DAYS.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Emerson, of Jacksonville, are in the city for a few days.

Mr. Emerson, who is one of the well-known newspaper men of the state, is director of publicity for the grand division. Order of Railway Conductors of the United States and Canada and Mexico, which convenes in Jacksonville, May 9 to 20.

This is to be the largest convention ever held in Florida and it is expected there will be from 5,000 to 7,000 delegates and visitors from all over the North American continent.

The ladies' auxiliary of the order will hold its convention at the same time and Jacksonville is raising $10,000 to entertain the thousands of distinguished visitors.

It has been the plan all along to make this a state affair and the entertaining division at Jacksonville has arranged with the railroad of the state to furnish free transportation to any point in Florida to all delegates and visiting members of the order during the convention or after its close. This will enable them to see the various points of interest and familiarize themselves with the general conditions of the state, so they can give intelligent information to the traveling public.

The publicity committee is preparing a series of illustrated articles covering the leading cities of the state for a handsome souvenir book which will be presented to all delegates and visitors and copies will be sent to every division in the country.

Daytona will be given a good showing in this book as Mr. Emerson is securing data and photographs for that purpose while here, through the courtesy of the Daytona board of trade. He says at least 1,000 of the conductors and their wives will visit Daytona during May.

Fifty Years Ago Today.

Feb. 11.

President Elect Lincoln left Springfield by a special train on the Great Western railroad. The train, "consisting of a baggage car, smoker and passenger coach and driven by a powerful Rogers locomotive, moves at the rate of thirty miles an hour." Frequent stops were made, and Mr. Lincoln addressed the people. "A heartier emotion than was read and him all the way to Indianapolis was never received by any public man," said the New York Herald. At Indianapolis he spoke to 20,000 people and for the first time since election hinted at his future policy.

The Word Bible.

The word Bible furnishes a striking instance of a word's rise from very low to high estate. To the bulk of English speaking folk it now means the book of books. In Chaucer's day it meant any book whatever or scroll to speak by the card lest equivocation undo us. Tracing the word Bible straight home, we find it as babies, but another name for the papyrus reed of Egypt.

SEABREEZE and DAYTONA BEACH, two enterprising and progressive towns on the Halifax Peninsula, are geographically one although incorporated as separate municipalities. The towns parallel the peninsula north and south for a distance of from three and one-half to four miles, and extend east and west from the surging seas of the Atlantic Ocean to the Halifax River, the beautiful tide water stream that sets them apart from Daytona with which they have close communion by means of three bridges, as well as a half-hour ferry service.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach are essentially summer and winter resorts and are making hundreds of new friends every year among those who desire to escape the discomforting extremes of heat and cold, and their hotels and boarding houses are now receiving splendid patronage from the most discriminating class of tourists.

The ocean itself, with its marvelous beach, hard as macadam and smooth as a floor, is the greatest attraction, although earth, air and sky seem to have entered into a combination to enhance its every charm. The beach is the famous automobile race course where every world's straight-away record has been made, and all these records it continues to hold without rival.

The beach has a width of 300 to 500 feet and can be used from two hours after until two hours before high tide, thus giving an average of seven or eight hours for automobilizing some part of each day.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach each have a permanent population of approximately 1500. Sanitary ordinances are strictly enforced, streets and sidewalks are well kept, and new streets are being opened as fast as the increasing population demands. Besides hotels and boarding houses there is ample cottage accommodation for all winter visitors in both towns.

All the attractiveness of Seabreeze applies to Daytona Beach, the two towns being so similarly situated. The development of Daytona Beach has been fully as phenomenal as its sister on the north, and each year there is a substantial growth. The great sand dunes have been leveled and handsome homes have been built for both winter and all-year-round occupancy.

CUTTING HIS PANTS.

A Funny Man's Criticism of the Sarterial Artist's Efforts.

When a tailor puts you on the measuring box, with a man guarding the door so that you can't get away and another making a book on the game, he reels off something like this as he goes about you with his measuring tape: "13-2-11-16-8-4-18-11-46-Gee, you're beginning to get a front, ain't you?—6½-17-side and two hips, Jimmie-33½-26-Can you come in to-morrow or Friday?—19-6-House or a flat, did you say?—25-Custom of the house to have a deposit on all orders—16-What was that last, Jimmie, did I say? Oh, make it 23 in the middle—What did you say your name was, mister?"

Now, nobody can make any combination of the foregoing figures which will spell anything like a decent pair of pants. But the tailor cares nothing whatever about the figures which he calls out to Jimmie and indeed makes no reference to them in his later operations. He knows the pants won't fit, anyhow, so what's the use? If you watch him you will discover that he usually takes up some other man's measurements when he undertakes the laying out of that particular garment on which he puts your name.

Having selected from the mass of papers on his desk a set of figures which suits him, he goes behind his counter, yawns, looks in the glass, smooths down his hair, hunts for the place where he left his cigar and at last picks up a thing which looks like a board rule, with a curve in the corner like a hockey stick. If you are not watching him he will probably cut your pants by ear and will not bother to use this implement, but if you insist upon inspection he'll make a pretense of scientific use of this instrument, whose real nature or purpose no human being knows or ever will know.

What the tailor is thinking of as he begins to make chalk marks in a piece of blue paper, using this rule as a straight edge, is the "joy ride" he is going to have with Marie in his new auto that evening. It makes no difference to him whether the chalk slips or not, nor is it important how far along this or that angle he allows the straight or curved line to run. He knows they are not going to fit, anyhow, so why should he bother about it overmuch? The only hope you can possibly have meantime is the one raised in your bosom when the tailor, from behind the counter, looks up and says: "Jimmie, why in the world didn't you mark the name on this gent's pants? Oh, well, never mind."

The tailor goes on making several cute little pictures on the blue paper by aid of this curved thing, which has numbers scattered along it here and there. He draws in several isosceles triangles, converging at more or less the same point; but, not liking the looks of these, he rubs out some of the lines and tries over again. Then he forgets which ones he rubbed out. It makes no difference anyhow. At last he stands off, critically gazes upon the pattern which he has been casting, makes a hit or miss crosswise dab with the chalk—which determines, wholly by chance, how long your pants are going to be—and smiles to himself. —Everybody's Magazine.

The principal difference between a genius and a fool is that the genius is able to get people to take up his ideas and make fortunes out of them.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The man who combats himself will be happier than he who contends with others.—Confucius.

CURIOSITY.

Curiosity is one of the permanent and certain characteristics of a vigorous intellect. Every advance in knowledge opens new prospects and produces new incitements to further progress. The gratification of curiosity rather frees us from uneasiness than confers pleasure. We are more pained by ignorance than delighted by instruction. Curiosity is the thirst of the soul.—Johnson.

Quered Himself.

"Ah, Mr. Jimmie!" exclaimed the kittenish lady with the plenitude of powder on her face, "you must remember I am a daughter of Eve."

"Well honestly," replied the blundering man, "you don't look half that old."

ORMOND-ON-THE-HALIFAX

ORMOND is 5 miles north of Daytona, located on the west side of the Halifax River. The location permits of the most perfect drainage and sanitation; the elevation is superb and ideal for winter homes. A wide bridge connects Ormond with Daytona Beach. Many fine homes are maintained on either side of the river, most of them surrounded by subtropical flora and shrubbery, besides thrifty orange and other citrus fruit trees.

Ormond has many attractions—excellent automobilizing, good fishing, safe boating, and many pleasant drives. Located at Ormond Beach is the large Hotel Ormond, and its lesser sister, the Ormond Inn. The Ormond occupies a position overlooking the Halifax, and the latter has as its outlook the magnificent beach and the broad Atlantic.

Besides the broad, smooth beach there are many drives for carriages and automobiles around Ormond—drives to and through groves of maiden oranges; drives through tropical forests to Spanish ruins; drives to the ancient Chinese city built by slaves of planters of long ago, and drives to the plantations of reputable settlers, whose places are replete with the interest of Southern fruits and flowers. One of the most interesting of these plantations is at the heartwaters of the Halifax and known as Moundgrove. It is one of the finest orange groves on the East Coast of Florida and is and very pretty surrounding Moundgrove is on the Daytona-Saint Augustine road.

Drive Straight to Ormond and try a few drives over that new golf course. Music at the club house 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. now stopping just across the way at BRETON INN. COL. BOGIE.

The Edmund cottage on Valley street was taken Monday by Mr. Jewel, wife and child, who arrived from the north.

Origin of the Cannon.

It is a curious fact that the first cannon was cast at Venice. It was called a "bombard" and was invented and employed by General Pisani in a war against the Genoese. The original bombard, which bears the date of 1380, is still preserved and stands at the foot of Pisani's statue at the arsenal. The bombard threw a stone 100 pounds in weight, but another Venetian general, Francesco Barde, improved it until he was able to handle a charge of rock and boxiders weighing 3000 pounds. It proved disastrous to him, however, for one day during the siege of Zara while he was operating his terrible engine he was hurled by it over the walls and instantly killed.

Rhinoceroses With Two Horns.

Several species of rhinoceroses, now extinct and only found in a fossil state, used to exist which had no horns at all. The name, meaning as it does "horned nose," is rather a misnomer in their case. Several kinds of rhinoceroses in Africa have two horns, one behind the other, but the extinct rhinoceros, known as the dyaceratherium, had a pair of horns on its nose side by side.

Ready Sacrifice.

"Heath," said a newly engaged girl to her fiance, "I will have to choose between you and my old pipe."

Not an his but did Gerald hesitate. "The old pipe goes, dear," he said, "throwing it away. I was thinking of buying a new one anyway."

K. W. Fillyaw, who was fined in mayor's court Friday morning on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, denies the part of the charge which alleges he was drunk. THE LADIES' AID SOCIAL AT

EPWORTH HALL LAST NIGHT.

The social given last night at the Epworth Hall by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church was largely attended throughout.

All who attended wore state tags as requested and 17 states were represented, Pennsylvania having the largest number present and New Jersey ranking second.

A very enjoyable program was carried out. Miss Edna Sedwick played a piano prelude and also sang a solo. There were also solos by Miss Mabel Merritt of New York State, and Miss Lantz of Pittsburgh, together with several encores. Mrs. Woodson gave a recitation and Miss Perkins, one of her pupils, gave several charming recitations.

BOSTON LIGHT.

It is Said to Be the Oldest Harbor Beacon in America.

The outer light of Boston harbor is Boston light, eight miles below the city and at the very outer end of the channel that ocean liners follow. It stands on Little Brewster island, a pile of rocks partly grassed over in its gentle hollow on the sheltered side. Three families live here—those of the head keeper and his two assistants. In all the inhabitants number a dozen souls.

The light itself is said to be the oldest in America, built in 1715 by the government of England. It is of rough bowlder stone, hooped with iron bands, and its lean, whitewashed form is a landmark and searack far and wide.

A rustic iron railway for carrying coal leads up from the waterside to the engine house, where is an engine and boilers in which steam is kept up continually to operate the siren foghorns. Their great trumpet-like forms protrude through the wall of the building on the seaward side. In foggy weather one can hear from the open windows the faroff moaning of the foghorn on the Boston lightship, seven miles away, as the keepers on the lightship can hear this one at Boston light.

An old cannon lies on the ground near the lighthouse. It was provided by the Cunard Steamship company before the foghorn was installed to give signals. It is unused now. But in addition to the great revolving light in the tower there is a set of red and white range lights that give the location of anchorage for vessels in the channel. If they see red it means that they are out of their proper location, but if white they are safe.—New York Mail.

The Sea Captain Librarian.

At the Melbourne university council Justice Higgins remarked that he had come across some queer librarians in his time. He knew one Australian institute that had appointed a retired sea captain to the office. That honest worthy catalogued Max Muller's "Chips From a German Workshop" under the heading of "Carpentry." He should have some fun with Ruskin's titles when it comes to classifying "Sheepfolds" and the "Ethics of the Dust."—London Chronicle.

"Why do the magazines print so much poetry?"

"I think it's a scheme to get people to read the advertisements. Those publishers are a foxy lot."—Washington Herald.
